

Graham Chee of BCyber Pty Ltd Named as a Top 100 Insurance Innovator in 2022 Insurance Innovators Award

Sydney NSW – BCyber Pty Ltd announced today that Graham Chee has been named as a Top 100 Insurance Innovator in the 2022 Insurance Innovator Awards which recognizes Insurance professionals who have made significant technological contributions to their company and the industry. The awards, sponsored by Lightico and The Lighthouse Collective, come on the heels of significant innovation in the Insurance industry during the last two years and are divided into four categories: carriers, brokers, media/influencers and insurtechs.

Graham Chee, Managing Director and Co-Founder at BCyber, said that he was proud to be recognised as a Top 100 Insurance Innovator in 2022 by Lightico.

BCyber aims to enable clients to take a more proactive approach to the risks associated with cybersecurity breaches rather than the more traditional reactive approach. Our team knows financial services, speak the language of business, and translate the world of cyber for SMEs. BCyber brings a fresh business perspective to cyber risk mitigation, most recently via their innovative cybersecurity audit and assessment program, a critical first step in an SME cyber resilience journey and helping prepare them for successful cyber insurance application.

“We were blown away at the level of innovation and dedication to improving the Insurance world that the professionals on this list have shown,” said Zviki Ben-Ishay, CEO and Cofounder of Lightico. “It isn’t easy to navigate the world of digital transformation and success requires a keen understanding of the challenges businesses face as well as the vision to execute.”
